Clipboard
Pencil
Score sheet
15 information cards of major World War II battles
15 index cards with the names of major World War II battles
Stopwatch

Each patrol will be given 3 minutes to read a set of cards with the years and locations of 15 major World War II battles as well as the outcomes. At the end of the three minutes, the information cards will be collected. The station master will then shuffle the information cards. The time will start when the station master reads the name of the battle on the first card. The patrol will have to answer what year it happened and what was the outcome. As one battle is completed, the station master will move on and read the name of the next battle. The station master will record the number of correct answers. Patrols will be given a 4 minute time limit to work through all 15 cards. Patrols will have to work together to be successful. The patrol that gets the most correct will be the winners.

All patrols will be asked a final question which the station master will record. This answer will only be used to break ties.
